

JOB DESCRIPTION

Job Title:	Lecturer/Senior Lecturer in Criminology	Grade:	AC2/AC3
Department:	School of Law and Criminology	Date of Job Evaluation:
Role reports to:	Head of Department
Direct Reports	None
Indirect Reports:
Other Key contacts:	Pro-Vice Chancellor Criminology Academic Staff Law Academic Staff
This role profile is non-contractual and provided for guidance. It will be updated and amended from time to time in accordance with the changing needs of the University and the requirements of the job.

PURPOSE OF ROLE:

To provide high quality teaching specially related to psychology of criminal behaviour and quantitative methods to ensure an outstanding learning experience for students of Criminology. To contribute to raising the School of Law and Criminology's research profile and reputation by publishing high-quality research and working with external organisations, ideally in a funded capacity.

KEY ACCOUNTABILITIES:

Team Specific:

- To work collaboratively with colleagues in Criminology and other related programmes;
- To establish and maintain professional working relationships with contacts within the University at all levels and with external organisations and individuals;
- To operate as an effective and enthusiastic member of the School of Law and Criminology's Teaching Team.
- To make an active contribution to the Criminology research stream.
- To assist in the employability activities at the School of Law and Criminology
- To assist in open day and recruitment activities.

Generic:

To actively contribute to an outstanding learning experience for students by balancing research, teaching and administration by:

- Delivering informed and reflective teaching at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels;
- Producing high quality research published in leading peer-reviewed criminological journals;
- Engaging with external criminal justice agencies to raise the external profile of the School of Law and Criminology and support the School's Employability agenda
- Developing, and supporting others to develop and evaluate learning, teaching and assessment activities and materials;
- Engage in knowledge exchange and other activities which make an impact on society and the economy;
- Undertake and manage activities that are recognized nationally and internationally to enhance professional practice and the professional practice of our students;
- To assist in the administration and management of courses;
- To undertake curriculum development in line with the team interests;
- To undertake assessment and administrative duties as required;
- Contributing to bids for external funding from funding agencies and other public and private bodies

Managing Self:

- Responsible for maintaining own continuous professional development (CPD) and knowledge of 'best practice';
- Work to deadlines and project plans;
- Respond to enquiries in a timely and effective manner.
- Display energy and enthusiasm in the role.

Core Requirements:

- Adhere to and promote the University's policies on Equality and Diversity and Information Security;

- Ensure compliance with Health & Safety and Data Protection Legislation;
- Support and promote the University's Sustainability policies, including the Carbon Management Plan, and carry out duties in a resource efficient way, recognising the shared responsibility of minimising the university's negative environmental impacts wherever possible.

Additional Requirements:

Any other duties commensurate with the post and grade as agreed with the Head of Department.

KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS:

Student feedback & NSS scores

Published research outputs

Increasing the number or variety of placements and employability activities for students.

Successful bids for funding

KEY RELATIONSHIPS (Internal & External):

School of Law and Criminology staff

Current and prospective students

School Admin Team

PERSON SPECIFICATION
Essential	Desirable
Experience <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Experience of teaching in a higher education environment • Experience of producing high-quality research or evidence of the ability to do so. Skills <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Demonstrable expertise in creative and academic approaches to teaching psychology of crime and quantitative methods. • Ability to contribute to research through conception to dissemination. • Evidence of teaching to both undergraduates and postgraduate across a range of platforms (e.g. lectures, seminars, workshops, e-learning) Qualifications <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • PhD Personal attributes <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Excellent interpersonal skills • Excellent organisational skills • Engagement with teaching excellence • Excellent written and verbal communication skills • We are looking for people who can help us deliver the values of the University of Greenwich: Excellence, Determination, Inclusivity, Ambition and Creativity 	Experience <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Experience of working in a criminal justice setting such as the police • Experience of bringing criminology to the public or wider communities Skills <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Developing innovative curriculum for students • Innovative delivery of teaching • Research publications and/or externally funded research projects Qualifications <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • PG Cert/Dip (note that candidates will be expected to acquire a HESA accredited teaching qualification if s/he does not already possess one) Personal attributes <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • N/A