Welcome from the Director

Chris Shelley
Director of Student and Academic Services

Thank you for expressing an interest in the various roles within the Student and Academic Services Directorate.

The University of Greenwich is a very special place and is rightly proud of its heritage in providing transformative experiences for students from all walks of life. We are equally proud of our high standards of applied research and enterprise which support economic growth, social impact and sustainability.

As we move into a new era, we are passionate and focused on the future and our collective ambition is to become the best modern university by 2030. We will achieve this by focusing on the student experience and success, investing in our knowledge exchange capability and building upon our existing achievement in applied, impactful research.

We have ambitious plans for our three campuses in London and Kent and these are founded upon our commitment to build successful partnerships, providing sector leading facilities and attracting talent on a global scale. We are particularly proud of our diverse student and staff body and our explicit commitment to equality, equity and inclusion.

The Student and Academic Services Directorate provides a variety of services at all three campuses to enable students to achieve their potential.

With the launch of the University's 'This is Our Time 2030' strategy and the growth in student numbers, I am pleased, that as a directorate, we are expanding to ensure we are able to fully provide the first class services that students need to support them to succeed.

We are looking for staff who have a passion for working with students and colleagues to achieve our priorities of delivering a world class welcome to all students, enhancing the student experience through all the services we provide and demonstrating our positive impact.

If you have a drive for excellence and ambition and share our passion for higher education and its power to create opportunities and change lives for the better, I encourage you to apply for these roles.

Great things about the University of Greenwich

- We have more than 125 years of experience providing quality education.
- We have won five Queen's Anniversary Prizes for Higher and Further Education, including a prize in 2019 for our Natural Resources Institute's ground-breaking work to find smart solutions for pest control in the developing world.
- Our Greenwich Campus is based on a UNESCO World Heritage Site, and we are custodian of 16 listed buildings of special architectural or historic interest.
- 90% of our students are in employment or further study six months after graduation.
- In the 2019 National Student Survey, more than 82% of our final-year undergraduate students said they were satisfied, overall, with their course, one of the highest scores among universities in London.
- We have won nine Times Higher Education awards, including Most Innovative Teacher and Outstanding Contribution to Innovation and Technology.
- Nobel Prize winner Professor Charles Kao, pioneer of fibre optics, was educated here.
- We are proud of the diversity of our international student body and our engagement in transnational education. The university has around 15,000 students in ca.31 partnerships across 19 countries. Our UK-based students come from more than 146 countries, and in 2018–19 22% were domiciled from outside the UK.
- In 2018, we established the University of Greenwich International College (UGIC) in partnership with Oxford International. Located on our Greenwich Campus, UGIC is an embedded college which offers an exciting range of undergraduate and postgraduate courses for international students leading to progression to the university.
- We've a 1st class environment rating from the People & Planet University League for our environmental and ethical performance.
- The university is well positioned for attracting students. QS Best Student Cities ranked London as the world's most student-friendly city in its 2018 edition.
- Improvements in our student experience include Dreadnought Building, a £25 million conversion which brings together all student-facing services on Greenwich Campus in one place for the first time; the Medway Student Hub, a new on-campus entertainment and social space; our award-winning Stockwell Street Building, which houses the main library; and the Cooper Powerhouse, a research, enterprise and teaching hub supporting student entrepreneurship.
- Our Teaching Excellence Framework Silver rating indicates that we provide our students with engaging, personalised teaching that encourages their commitment to learning and study.
- Our academic staff includes recipients of the prestigious National Teaching Fellowship, which recognises and rewards individual excellence in teaching in higher education.
- Ofsted has given us its 'Outstanding' rating for the quality of our training in primary education.
- Two of the recent winners of the British Journal of Midwifery's Student Midwife of the Year award have come from the University of Greenwich.
- The university has two Guardian University Awards for Research Impact. Guardian University Awards showcase world-class teaching, research, leadership and engagement within the higher education sector.
- Life-saving research carried out by the university includes projects to reduce loss of life during fire evacuations and to develop a trap for a malaria-carrying species of mosquito.
- Our alumni excel in every walk of life. They range from lawyer Shabina Begum, a campaigner for the empowerment and protection of women, to composer Guy Penwill, a member of a double Oscar-winning special effects team, and Abiy Ahmed, Prime Minister of Ethiopia and winner of the 2019 Nobel Peace Prize. Our annual Greenwich Portraits exhibition recognises some of our most outstanding alumni.

About the university

The university takes its name from the Royal Borough of Greenwich in London. Greenwich has a long and rich history which forms the backdrop and inspiration for today's university. Many of the buildings on Greenwich Campus were designed at the end of the 17th century by Sir Christopher Wren, one of Britain's greatest architects, and the work was overseen by Nicholas Hawksmoor and Sir John Vanbrugh, both towering figures in their field.

The £76 million Stockwell Street Building continues this tradition of innovative architecture within the Maritime Greenwich World Heritage Site.

Altogether, the university is custodian of 16 listed buildings, including the grand former Royal Naval Barracks at Chatham Maritime, now home to the Medway Campus.

Our vision, our values and our strategy

Our vision for 2030 is to be the best modern university in the UK.

Our university is a community of people from many walks of life. We take pride in the diversity of our subject expertise, the lived experience of our staff, students and alumni, and the diversity of campus experiences we offer. This diversity is our strength and enables us to say we are a university that empowers others to make a difference locally, regionally, nationally and internationally, with equal intensity.

What makes the university distinctive is that we proactively support our students and staff to achieve their ambitions because of rather than despite, their backgrounds.

The University of Greenwich Strategy is driven by the vision of Education without Boundaries, underpinned by the values of inclusivity, collaboration and impact and principles of creating opportunities, building partnerships and delivering impact.

The University has four Strategic Priorities:

1. Student Success
2. Inclusivity and Culture
3. Research and Knowledge Exchange
4. Connected Sustainable Campuses

Education Without Boundaries means:

- Widening access to higher education for individuals who may otherwise not aspire to experience and benefit from it.
- Fighting for improved social mobility and equality, diversity and inclusions in everything that we do.
- Empowering our students to use their lived experience to stand out in their chosen vocation in the workplaces of tomorrow.
- Empowering our staff to innovate in a way that makes a difference academically, commercially and socially.
- Providing physical and digital campus services that foster a sense of community to build networks, peers, friends and connections that set our students up for life.
- Breaking down boundaries that exist within and between academic disciplines, locations and borders.
- Ensuring an equitable focus on local (civic), regional, national and global agendas.

Our faculties

Faculty of Liberal Arts and Sciences

The Faculty of Liberal Arts and Sciences provides courses in architecture, landscape architecture; design, drama, film and media; humanities and social sciences; and law and criminology.

The faculty is based on the historic Greenwich Campus, part of a UNESCO World Heritage Site in south-east London. Students who study here have easy access to the capital's rich cultural life, with world-famous theatres, galleries and museums within easy reach.

Among the faculty's impressive facilities are industry-standard computer labs, video and film-making studios, a 100-seat theatre, and a mootings space for law students.

Many of its courses are accredited by professional bodies, ensuring students graduate with the skills and knowledge required by their chosen professions.

Greenwich Business School

Greenwich Business School's international focus fits perfectly with today's global economy. It offers dynamic courses that combine academic learning with hands-on experience, preparing students for successful business careers and leadership roles.

A major benefit of studying at the school is its location. Greenwich Campus is within easy reach of Canary Wharf, one of the world's key financial districts and a major provider of business internships, work experience and placements.

Students choose from a wide variety of courses, including MBAs and research degrees. Subjects include accountancy and finance, business studies, economics, financial services, international marketing and personnel management. The school works with employers to develop courses that are accredited by the relevant professional bodies.

Faculty of Education, Health and Human Sciences

The Faculty of Education, Health and Human Sciences has provided high-quality education for more than a century.

The faculty focuses on giving students the skills they need to start or boost their careers and meet the requirements of the relevant professional bodies. Many of its students go on to become teachers, nurses, midwives, paramedics, social workers, psychologists and public health professionals, or find other rewarding careers that bring real benefits to society.

Teaching and research facilities range from clinical skill laboratories that replicate NHS wards to innovative spaces for learning to teach PE, design technology, music and science. Tutors are active in research and are leading authorities in their fields.

Faculty of Engineering and Science

The Faculty of Engineering and Science is a hub for innovation on both our Medway and Greenwich Campuses. Its students study engineering, construction and the built environment; science; pharmacy; and computer science, mathematics, and games and digital media.

The faculty's close-knit community includes academics who are active in life-changing research with impacts in the UK and around the globe. Teaching is supported by industry-standard labs, a replica pharmacy, crime scene examination rooms, and a range of IT facilities.

Many of the faculty's courses combine academic learning with hands-on experience, including our range of Integrated Master's Degrees with industrial placements.

The faculty includes the Natural Resources Institute, a multidisciplinary organisation that provides award-winning research in areas such as food, agriculture and the environment.
